Le Paradis n’est pas artificiel
but is jagged

Ezra Pound
A CANADIAN ISSUE

poetry selected by:
  Margaret Atwood
  Warren Tallman

criticism selected by:
  Robert Kroetsch
  Eli Mandel

general editor:
  Robert Kroetsch

boundary 2
Volume III, No. 1
Fall 74

State University of New York
at Binghamton
BOUNDARY2

is an international journal of postmodern literature published in the fall, winter and spring by the Department of English, State University of New York at Binghamton.

Yearly subscription rates:
individuals $7.00;
institutions $9.00;
overseas add $1.00;
single copies $3.00.

boundary 2
SUNY-Binghamton
Binghamton, New York 13901

Copyright © boundary 2, 1974
A CANADIAN ISSUE

CONTENTS

POETRY

Contemporary Canadian Poetry, Selected by MARGARET ATWOOD 3

WARREN TALLMAN, Wonder Merchants: Modernist Poetry in Vancouver During the 1960's 57

Poets of the Sixties / Vancouver, Selected by WARREN TALLMAN 91

TESTAMENT

DENNIS LEE, Cadence, Country, Silence: Writing in Colonial Space 151

NAIM KATTAN, Ecrire en français 169

DOUGLAS BARBOUR, Poetics 18-23 177
CONTEXT

GEORGE WOODCOCK,  Diana's Priest in the Bush Garden  185

WILFRED WATSON,  Marshall McLuhan and multi-consciousness: The Place Marie Dialogues  197

STEPHEN SCOBIE,  I Dreamed I Saw Hugo Ball: bpNichol, Dada and Sound Poetry  213

D.G. JONES,  In Search of America  227

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS  247

CONTRIBUTORS  248

Photographs courtesy of The Public Archives of Canada Poets of the Sixties/Vancouver poems selected and arranged by Warren Tallman, assembled by Angela Bowering

George Bowering           Pierre Coupey
John Newlove              bill bissett
Fred Wah                  Judith Copithorne
Frank Davey               Gerry Gilbert
Daphne Marlatt            Maxine Gadd
David Bromige             Jim Brown
Robert Hogg               Scott Lawrence
Lionel Kearns             Jorj Hayman
Gladys Hindmarch          Chuck Carlson
Roy Kiyooka               Brian Fawcett
David Cull                David Dawson
Stan Persky               Colin Stuart
Barry McKinnon            John Pass
David Phillips            Robin Blaser
Don’t Cut Me Down

I don’t want any of this tree poetry shit from you. You don’t know what a fuckin tree is. If ya think its only in yer head yer full a shit. Trees is trees and the only thing they’re good for is lumber so don’t give me any crap about them bein sumpin else. Fer chrys sake you think the rest of us don’t know sweet fuck all compared to you. Well you don’t know nuthin till ya go out there and bust yer back on em. Settin chokers’d break yer ass so fast ya wouldn’t even wanna look at a goddamned tree let alone write about em. Then ya’d know what a tree wuz, steda yappin about it.

Fred Wah
Spring, 1972
this is a hard language to work out the images keep interrupting the talking trees keep being pictures of themselves my words keep meaning pictures of words meaning tree and its not easy to find myself in the picture except there is a strange familiarity I remember something which is not a dream and surely it isn't only in the mind when I step out into the forest even think it not before there is a distinct signal of a condition or presence
I and the trees are there in tune with it
call it a quietness
I see trees around me or I am looking at a tree
the actual shape of such appearances are home
and I fall into them in a flash
I recognize it now as Love that's what goes on

Fred Wah
Spring, 1972
Tree of colored textured brain bathed in twisted neural headlights twined trunk of cedar bark all shaggy woman man tree
underpits which root me to the image like a root is moving through the darkness of the soil nerves and soul (like baling wire a line of thought taut shoots in screaming hot blood leaps of pool pool pool of a tree
   soft flow of dancer slowing air O dream of tree
   you dream of me
O branch of itself you are a synapse of that line
   and think me
   clear brain loops
the turning rings of yourself are of me our tissues cross
I always hoped you’d give me heart rings in your dream
dear birch across from me we face the quiet pool of ourselves face each other return we look that way

Fred Wah
Spring, 1972
Poem for Turning

Move down zigzag
through switchback
through sideways move down there move side right move left keep right angles
head front-wise cleft earth hold the fall-line
fall to trees
keep incline
be degrees
go corner move side move jut out in boots road pick-up sidewise wide three ruts wheel ridge grass switch eyes move in boots in heel knee cut side-hill

ditch run-off
move down ricochet track
line shove spin out fall back fall side
saw the forest
clear the creek rock split the sky
open roll dig cover burn fill the fill and cross the bridge turn up turn into turn at it

Fred Wah
1965
Contributors

Douglas Barbour, who teaches at the University of Alberta, is the author of five books of poetry, most recently he. & she. &. (1974). His interests are Canadian literature and science fiction.

D.G. Jones, Professor of English, Université de Sherbrooke, Quebec, is author of several books of poetry and a critical book, Butterfly on Rock: A Study of Themes & Images in Canadian Literature.

Naim Kattan is the author of numerous plays, short stories and literary essays. His book, Le réel et le théâtral, was awarded the literary prize France Canada in 1971. He is presently Head of the Writing and Publication Section, The Canada Council.

Dennis Lee has taught at the universities of Toronto and York, and was one of the founders of Rochdale College. He also co-founded the House of Anansi Press. Among his six books of poetry, Civil Elegies and Other Poems won the Governor General's Award for Poetry in 1972.

Stephen Scobie teaches at the University of Alberta and writes poetry, criticism and short stories. His most recent books are The Birken Tree and Stone Poems. At present he is completing a study of Leonard Cohen.

Warren Tallman teaches a poetry course at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver. He has published a number of essays on modern literature, including a study of William Carlos Williams which appeared in boundary 2, 1/1.

Wilfred Watson, poet, playwright and critic, is Professor of English at the University of Alberta. He is one of the founding editors of the literary journal, The White Pelican.

George Woodcock is editor of Canadian Literature and has published many books of criticism, biography and history, including Anarchism, The Crystal Spirit — A Study of George Orwell, and Herbert Read: The Stream and the Source.
Acknowledgements

The publication of this issue was made possible by a grant from the Office of Graduate Studies and Research, State University of New York at Binghamton.

* * *

"Thaw" and "The Literal Nature" by Ken Belford are reprinted from The Post Electric Cave Man by permission of Talonbooks, 201-1019 East Cordova, Vancouver, B.C.

"After a Canto of Ezra Pound" by Victor Coleman is reprinted from Old Friends Ghosts by permission of Weed Flower Press. The eight stanzas from America by Victor Coleman are reprinted by permission of The Coach House Press, 401(rear) Huron Street, Toronto, Ontario.

"Incisions 3-9" by Robert Flanagan are reprinted from Incisions (1972) by permission of House of Anansi Press Limited, 35 Britain Street, Toronto, Ontario.

"Considerations" and "Snow, this snow" by David Helwig are reprinted from The Best Name of Silence by permission of Oberon Press, 555 Maple Lane, Ottawa, Ontario.

"Buses" and "Tornado" by Paulette Jiles are reprinted from Waterloo Express (1973) by permission of Anansi.

"A Love Poem" and "Emile X, Student Revolutionary" by George Jonas are reprinted from Cities (1973) by permission of Anansi.

"Passing Into Storm" and "Thirty Below" by Patrick Lane are reprinted from Passing Into Storm by permission of Very Stone Press.

"400: Coming Home" and "Night" by Dennis Lee are reprinted from Civil Elegies by permission of Anansi. An earlier version of his essay, "Cadence, Country, Silence: Writing in Colonial Space," appeared in Open Letter (Fall 1973).

"My Dream of Maoism" and "Tongue to Tongue" by David McFadden are reprinted from Letters From the Earth to the Earth by permission of Coach House.

"Exposure: An Elegy" and "Pale Girls With Heart-Shaped Faces" by Stuart MacKinnon are reprinted from Skydeck by permission of Oberon.

"Coyote's Feast" and "Liturgy for a Dead Fuel Pump" by Sid Marty are reprinted from Headwaters by permission of The Canadian Publishers, McClelland and Stewart Limited, Toronto.

"awoke this moment" and "all in a night i am taken" by bpNichol are reprinted from The Martyrology by permission of Coach House Press.

"Letters & Other Worlds" and "Philoctetes on the island" by Michael Ondaatje are reprinted from Rat Jelly by permission of Coach House Press.

"Cat," "The Ant Trap" and "Fish" by Joe Rosenblatt are reprinted from The Blind Photographer by permission of Press Porcépic, c/o General Delivery, 70 Main St., Erin, Ontario.

"The Onion" and "Ewe's Skull on the Aboideau at Carter's Brook" by John Thompson are reprinted from At the Edge of the Chopping There Are No Secrets, by permission of Anansi.

"Opening the Family" and "Picketing Supermarkets" by Tom Wayman are reprinted from Waiting For Wayman by permission of The Canadian Publishers, McClelland and Stewart Limited, Toronto.

"Father" and "The Hunters of the Deer" by Dale Zieroth are reprinted from Clearing (1973) by permission of Anansi.

* * *

Permissions for poems in "Poets of the Sixties/Vancouver" were arranged by Warren Tallman and Angela Bowering.