

Cool Summer Issue - rocks & friends

ZEST #8 June '82

Fred Wah

IN THE SUMMER

Rain
slows
down
a bit
more
so I go to the window
and look for the cows crossing the field
again I'd be part of it mind swollen with the nearness aching at the wonder
and later the crows come down into the spruce trees
again

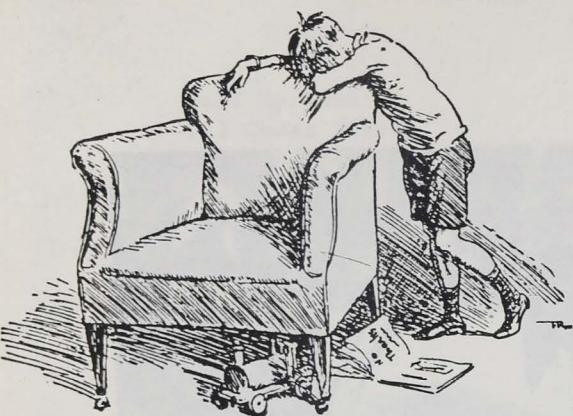

Zest is issued every few weeks. Distribution is by contributors (each gets 5 copies), subscriptions ($7.50 for 5 issues), and through the New Leaf Bookstore (Nelson). Manuscripts and artwork are photocopied directly so send only originals. Creators' names should be on the work. This Zest by Eric Garsonnin on a Sharp copier.

* A Pictorial History of ZEST. *

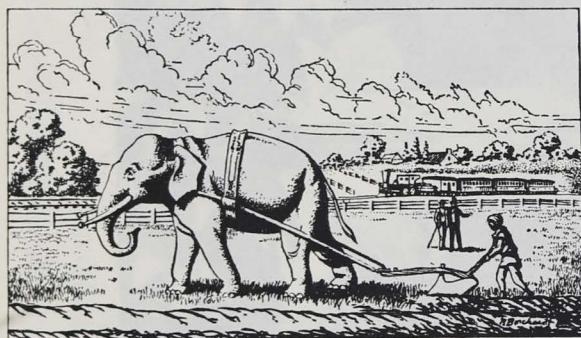

by Calvin Wharton

① We all know the heartbreak of the dreaded magazine REJECTION SLIP.

② Eric decided to do something about it. He talked to some friends about starting his own magazine.

③ Soon, the groundwork was laid.

④ The "Zest" building was quickly completed, and became the heart of a booming literary metropolis.

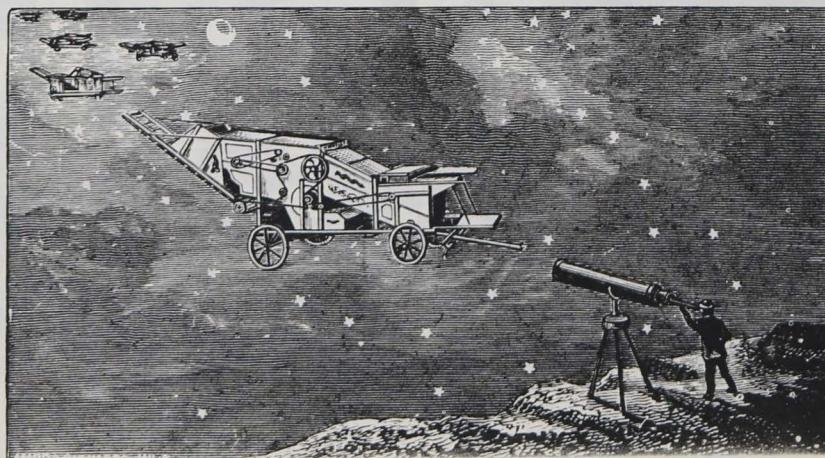

⑤ The most sophisticated equipment and methods were employed...

⑥ Anyhow, the sky's the limit, Eric figures.

Someday, he hopes to establish Zest printing operations throughout the galaxy.

Thank you.
